EDITOR'S PICK

Iris van Herpen: Transforming Fashion

Push tradition aside for this exhibition, which follows the evolution of Iris van Herpen's couture from 2008 through 2015. This pioneering new voice of fashion designs brilliant creations using technology and science, as she draws inspiration from beyond traditional craftsmanship. Van Herpen experiments by incorporating unexpected materials from magnets to 3-D printing, silk, and steel. Her works astound the contemporary world and inspire a new generation of fashion creators. The exhibition includes "Chemical Crows," inspired by a flock of crows near her window, and born from hundreds of brass tines from children's umbrellas, fastened together to create a metal fabric, mimicking bird's wings.

INSIDER INFO

Hot tips to help you find the best places to go and things to do, save you money or just help you get the information you need to maximize your stay here.

CONCIERGE CORNER

When visitors come to the city, it's always a good bet to check out tips from our knowledgeable concierge friends. Rory Rule, Lead Concierge, JW Marriott Atlanta Buckhead and President, The Concierge Society of Atlanta, gives us his best tips.

During the winter in Atlanta, I tell our visitors to:

Experience: Winter in Atlanta can be just as much fun as the rest of the year! Everyone must go to Snow Mountain at Stone Mountain Park. Slide down a 400 foot hill alone or in a family sized tube. The best part is the conveyor that carries you back up to the top of the hill to go again — no need to climb to the top of the hill. Build a snowman, make an angel or have a snowball battle. Reservations are definitely suggested and space can be limited.

Buy: My absolute favorite place to shop for local food gifts is Preserving Place in the White Provisions complex on Atlanta's Westside. It is a unique "farm to store" retail concept that focuses on "preserving our Southern sense of place," and they sell simply delicious southern-made condiments and preserved goods. They offer a wonderful assortment of classes too — tasty fun for families or small groups.

Dine at: When winter weather permits, stroll through The Shops Buckhead Atlanta. Enjoy a signature cocktail at Southern Gentleman or Gypsy Kitchen, then stroll over to Le Bilboquet and order the Le Polet Cajun, the Cajun Chicken. You will not be disappointed. If it's too cold to be outside, check out the Krog Street Market and try Ford Fry's Tex Mex restaurant Superica, or go to Gu's Dumplings for the best Szechuan dumplings and noodles in Atlanta.

CENTER FOR PUPPETRY ARTS

Late last year, the Center for Puppetry Arts completed a renovation and expansion of its facilities and opened the highly anticipated Worlds of Puppetry Museum that includes the Jim Henson Collection gallery. Home to the world's most comprehensive collection of Henson's work, the collection is a generous gift from the Henson family and boasts more than 500 artifacts including Big Bird, Bert and Ernie and Oscar the Grouch from "Sesame Street," Kermit the Frog and Miss Piggy from "The Muppet Show," characters from "The Dark Crystal" and "Fraggle Rock," as well as props and other elements. Some 75 items will rotate through the interactive gallery at one time. The Worlds of Puppetry Museum also comprises a Global Collection Gallery with more than 170 puppets and artifacts from around the world, an expanded museum store and a new research library.

THE CHILDREN'S MUSEUM OF ATLANTA

The Children's Museum of Atlanta continues to foster creativity with a renovation, completed in December 2015, that features two new permanent galleries, a 3,000-square foot mezzanine level and a permanent performance space for the museum's professional actors and educators. The museum also has a new focus on STEAM (science, technology, engineering, arts and math). Two new learning zones include "Gateway to the World," a climbing structure that invites children to climb through the

GEORGIA AQUARIUM

What's all that barking about? It will be the Georgia Aquarium's new Sea Lion Gallery Presented by SunTrust. The new gallery brings back one of the aquarium's most popular animal species, and two rescued sea lions, currently in the Georgia Aquarium's care, will have a permanent home when the gallery opens in spring 2016. A renovation of the existing SunTrust Georgia Explorer Gallery, the new sea lion habitat and presentation space enables guests to observe, learn about and build connections with these captivating mammals.

in an elegant setting, the restaurant will have breathtaking garden views and panoramic skyline views from a rooftop terrace. A renovation and redesign of the popular Children's Garden welcomes new exploration opportunities, water effects and free-play elements while maintaining many of the most popular features. Phased completion is scheduled for spring and summer of 2016. www.atlantabotanicalgarden.org

SKYTOWER ATLANTA

Rising above Centennial Olympic Park adjacent to the SkyView Atlanta Ferris wheel, SkyTower Atlanta is a new 225-foot-tall attraction comprising three thrilling rides. The SkyTwist takes 20 riders on a rotating gondola ride to the top of the 225-foot tower. The SkyDrop sends daredevils on a 225-foot free fall while the SkyShot vaults riders more than 200 feet into the air. SkyTower is slated to open as early as summer 2016.

There is no website yet, but check www.atlanta.net for updates.

FERNBANK MUSEUM OF NATURAL HISTORY

Experience the great outdoors with Fernbank Museum of Natural History's 75-acre expansion. Opening this summer and focusing on eight acres of new outdoor activities behind the museum's terrace overlook, this immersive experience features a variety of settings to explore. Highlights include vantage points high in the trees, winding footpaths and trails, dramatic tree pods, sensory stations, elevated adventure nets, hi-line trails through the trees, water cycle activities and more. The expansion also includes increased access to Fernbank Forest, one of America's largest old-growth urban forests.

ATLANTA HISTORY CENTER

The future is looking "souper" for the Atlanta History Center. Following the completion of a renovated Atlanta History Museum, expanded atrium and new main entrance in late 2015, the center is set to welcome the beloved Atlanta eatery Souper Jenny to its campus in April 2016. Founded and owned by Jenny Levinson and known for its daily menu of freshly prepared soups, salads and sandwiches, the café will maintain its funky bohemian feel in an expanded space off the History Center's main entrance. The center also will open a bookstore with specialty topics and sections. Looking ahead to 2017, the Atlanta Cyclorama — including "The Battle of Atlanta" painting, Texas locomotive and other Civil War artifacts — will relocate to a new state-of-the-art building on the Atlanta History Center property. www.atlantahistorycenter.com

CELEBRATE BLACK HISTORY MONTH BY VISITING TREASURED ATLANTA ATTRACTIONS

The Sweet Auburn District was the center of black enterprise from the 1890s to 1950. Auburn Avenue runs through the district and, today, connects important venues, including:

The Martin Luther King Jr. National Historic Site and the Martin Luther King Jr. Center for Nonviolent Social Change. The site is made up of a visitors center; both his tomb and that of his wife, Coretta Scott King; his birth home; and the historic and new sanctuaries for Ebenezer Baptist Church, where three generations of the King family preached. The International Civil Rights Walk of Fame features the concrete shoe prints of civil and human rights heroes.

BARGAIN BITES

Stop by one of these easy-on-the-wallet eateries for a quality meal at a fraction of the cost. BY GIANNINA SMITH BEDFORD

FADO IRISH PUB

Sip on a Guinness and feast on Shepherd's Pie at this festive Irish pub with two locations in Atlanta — Buckhead and Midtown — and many more around the country. The Buckhead outpost boasts an inviting rooftop patio ideal for happy hour (Monday to Friday from 4 to 7 p.m.) when select "Drinking Bites" are just $5, including the pork belly tacos and bleu cheese lamb sliders. Starting in January, Fado's will also offer a "buy one, get one half-off" fish and chips entrée (its most popular dish). With several stouts, lagers, Belgians and ales on draught (and lots of bottled beers) you'll never run out of brews to sample.

www.fadoirishpub.com/atlanta

GUS'S WORLD FAMOUS FRIED CHICKEN

This Tennessee-born temple of fried chicken is located downtown at the Mall at Peachtree Center, making it the perfect no-fuss refueling stop for convention-goers and sightseers. Start your meal with fried pickles or fried green tomatoes, then move on to the spicy fried bird that gave the restaurant its name. Choose between individual pieces (leg, thigh, breast or wing) for around $3 to $4, or order a plate with two or three pieces of chicken paired with baked beans and coleslaw. Don't leave this no-frills comfort food spot without a slice of pie — chess, coconut, pecan and sweet potato.

MELLOW MUSHROOM

A fun and casual eatery with locations in Buckhead, Downtown and Midtown (among many others), Mellow Mushroom has delighted pizza lovers since the 1970s. Today, each of its locations has a unique look with original artwork and a groovy design, but they all serve up salads, pizzas, calzones and hoagies at a bargain price. Order the Kosmic Karma specialty pizza or build your own. For a deal, sign up for the restaurant's eClub and get a bruschetta or spinach dip on the house.

SIDEBAR

Hidden away on downtown's Poplar Street, this laid-back sports bar has served a killer Cuban sandwich since 2003. Get the original for $7.49 or try the Tampa Cuban with salami ($7.99) or Super Cuban with more

meat and cheese ($9). The menu also features pizzas and burgers. In between bites, entertain yourself at the pool table or with traditional bar games. You can also sit back with a draught beer to enjoy sports on multiple televisions. (404) 588-1850 www.sidebaratlanta.com

T.MAC

Formerly known as Taco Mac, this lively sports bar was started in 1979 and now has more than 30 locations across Georgia, Tennessee and North Carolina. The Midtown outpost (located in the Metropolis building) boasts 140 beers on draft, 125 in the bottle and 50 televisions streaming a variety of sports. No visit to T.Mac is complete without feasting on "The Southeast's Original Buffalo Wings" offered in 12 different flavors and three styles — original, roasted and boneless. Order a six-piece serving for just $7.75 or get ambitious with a helping of up to 50. The restaurant also offers seven different burgers, all under $10. (678) 904-7211 www.tmacrestaurants.com

THE VARSITY

You can't beat the Southern hospitality and budget bites at this Atlanta landmark dating back to 1928. From the chili cheese dog for $2.78 to the onion rings for $2.04, a visit to the world's largest drive-in won't set you back but a few bucks. The cheapest meal on the legendary menu is a "Naked Dog" for $1.59. No matter what kind of spread you order, save some room in your budget (and your stomach) for a refreshing Frosted Orange shake or a fried apple pie — each worth every penny. (404) 881-1706 www.thevarsity.com

DON'T BREAK THAT RESOLUTION QUITE YET

Start out the new year right with three picks for healthy dining around the city.

1. MetroFresh

A very creative menu of gourmet soups, salads and sandwiches in all sorts of realms — vegan, vegetarian, gluten free and paleo friendly — makes it easy to find something tasty and stay on task with that new resolution. MetroFresh is right next to the Atlanta BeltLine, so take a quick jog, walk or ride through the neighborhood after your meal.

www.metrofreshatl.com

2. Cafe at Linton's

Dine in the garden at this new bistro helmed by chef Linton Hopkins. The menu features fresh and local ingredients, very much inspired by its surroundings of the Atlanta Botanical Garden. Take a stroll through the Garden afterwards. Garden admission is required to dine here, but it's worth it.

www.lintonsinthegarden.com

3. Miller Union

Chef Steven Satterfield leads Miller Union's ever-evolving menu, incorporating sustainable, southern-inspired food. Sample the diverse bounty of the season at both lunch and dinner. Oh, and at lunch, there's a great burger, if you're feeling like a splurge.

HORSERADISH GRILL

Pioneers of the “Farm to Table”
movement in Atlanta

Horseradish Grill has been providing upscale, fresh, Southern food to Atlantans since 1994. The restaurant offers a beautiful patio, an extensive wine collection, and as the latest Zagat review stated, “Southern Comfort at every turn.”

WHERE TO STAY WARM IN THE CITY

From crackling indoor fireplaces to the warm glow of an outdoor fire pit, these Atlanta restaurants and bars are keeping things hot, even when it's not.

Cypress Street Pint & Plate (Midtown) – Nothing gets the party going like ice cold craft beers and two-hand doughnut burgers. You get all of this and more at Midtown's neighborhood bar, Cypress Street Pint & Plate. What's better is the patio fire pit perfect for warming up with friends after drinking said ice cold brews.

Bartaco (West Midtown) – The vacation-like atmosphere and inviting outdoor fireplaces create a cozy bonfire situation under the ATL sky. Just bring on the fresh-squeezed margaritas and delicious tacos.

Barcelona Wine Bar (Inman Park) – This Spanish tapas standout has an undeniable allure and cements the ATL outdoor fireplace scene. Sample the cocktails, sangria and heaping bowls of paella amid the backdrop of one of our favorite neighborhoods.

Einstein's (Midtown) – While Einstein's may be best known for its sprawling patio and offering one of the most delicious, if coma-inducing, brunches in Atlanta, the indoor vibe is definitely worth mentioning. The bar/lounge area has a fireplace, perfect for warming up when things get too chilly.

Joe's on Juniper (Midtown) – The party doesn't stop in Midtown, especially at the wildly popular Joe's on Juniper. If the rustic charm, tasty bar food and daily drink specials aren't enough to keep you snug, four fireplaces inside will surely do the trick.

King + Duke (Buckhead) – The restaurant uses a 24-foot wood-burning hearth to meticulously bathe meats and veggies with smoky, earthy flavor. While there is a quaint, outdoor fire pit that makes for prime people-watching on winter nights, the indoor hearth is what really brings the heat.

Seven Lamps (Buckhead) – This dining destination is not only bringing the heat with deftly crafted cuisine and cocktails, but also on its patio. The semi-covered patio and fire pit is the perfect location to unwind with a glass of vino after a day of shopping at adjacent Lenox Square and Phipps Plaza.

Park Tavern (Midtown) – Standing in the shadow of Piedmont Park, Park Tavern brightens things up with the warm glow of outdoor fire pits and ice skating. After chilling on the ice skating rink, heat up with open-fire s'mores and cocktails.

Davio's (Buckhead) – Davio's delivers big Italian flavors, pastas, steaks and wines that meld into a truly romantic dining experience. What some might miss is that the warmth extends to the covered exterior patio heated by a fire pit.

CHILLY WEATHER? COZY UP TO COMMUNAL DINING

With extended families and soaring travel costs, we may not always get to celebrate with our loved ones on the exact holiday. Or we may choose to meet friends once the holiday rush settles down. Here are five Atlanta restaurants that offer communal dining with excellent food.

Antico Pizza Napoletana – Pizza doesn't usually lend itself to communal dining tables but Antico seemed to start the trend in Atlanta.

Gunshow – There's no other restaurant in Atlanta quite like Kevin Gillespie's Gunshow. The communal seating is good for groups that want to try a variety of dishes.

Ladybird Grove & Mess Hall – Located on the Atlanta BeltLine, Ladybird is an especially wonderful start on your weekend. A large dining table is perfect for sharing the many brunch options.

Seven Lamps – If you are looking for a group dining experience that features craft cocktails and unique food, visit Seven Lamps. It's a good spot to take out of towners you are hoping to impress.

Sotto Sotto – Sotto Sotto was communal before communal was cool. The restaurant is still going strong after all these years, so it must be doing something right.

FIVE HOT TODDIES

1. Pittypat's Porch (Downtown): A distinctly Georgian take on the traditional hot toddy, Pittypat's combines apple cider, cinnamon, cloves, nutmeg, peach schnapps, peach brandy and peach syrup in a mason jar.

2. Kimball House (Decatur): If you want a little extra kick in your hot toddy, Kimball House adds a measure of St. George Absinthe Verte to cognac, almond and lemon.

3. Fadó Irish Pub Atlanta (Buckhead and Midtown): Raise a pint for a toddy made with Tullamore D.E.W Irish whiskey, honey, cloves and lemon.

4. Wrecking Bar Brewpub (Little Five Points): If rye whiskey suits you, check out the Wrecking Bar's toddy with chamomile tea, Bärenjäger German honey liqueur, lemon juice, bitters and spices.

5. Park Tavern (Midtown): This tavern is about as close to the activity of a ski lodge as we've got here in Atlanta, considering that in the winter months, the tavern sets up an ice skating rink. Take a break during your skate with a hot beverage.

THAT'S AMORE! FALL IN LOVE WITH ATLANTA'S DIVERSE CULINARY OFFERINGS

Love is in the air this winter in Atlanta, and who better to cozy up with than your sweetie? Here are some of city's best options for romancing your significant other.

Learning a new skill together is a great way to bond, and The Cook's Warehouse is a premier place to learn new culinary capabilities. Hands-on classes designed especially for couples will be offered Feb. 12-14. Topics include Romantic Breakfast for Two, Date Night: Calling All Lovers, Persian Passion, Couples Cooking for Valentine's Day, Dining on Aphrodisiacs, and Passion in the Kitchen: Dinner for (and with) Your Valentine. You can enjoy a nibble, wine and quality time and take home some tried-and-true recipes to enjoy all year long.

For a cultural experience that's sure to bring the whole family together (or just the two lovebirds), take in the "Be Mine" concert at Atlanta Symphony Hall. The free afternoon Valentine's Day Concert will showcase many of the most iconic romance songs from the stage, including musical stylings from Romeo and Juliet, A Midsummer Night's Dream, Carmen, and La Bohème. Table 1280, in the Woodruff Arts Center along with Atlanta Symphony Hall, is available for lunch before the show.

If letting an expert handle cooking the most romantic meal of the year is more your speed, reservation service

OpenTable offers reservations to many of Atlanta's best restaurants. The site will alert you about special menus (prix-fixe? tasting? themed?) offered, so you're sure to match the meal with your tastes and preferences. Max Lager's in downtown, Midtown's The Melting Pot and Southern Gentleman in Buckhead are just a few of the scores of reservations just a click away.

Finally, if you're convinced that sharing is overrated, end the night on a sweet note at Shake Shack. The burger outpost offers a gratis second hand spun shake (with the purchase of the first), so you can keep dessert all to yourself.

SOUTHERN CHARM IS ABUNDANT AT THESE SOUTHERN RESTAURANTS

Southern food is experiencing tremendous popularity. Whether you are new to Atlanta or have guests who want to eat true Southern food, we've got a handful of restaurants sure to impress.

Horseradish Grill (Buckhead)

– Horseradish Grill serves up Southern favorites like trout, venison meatloaf and shrimp and grits in a beautiful atmosphere. Note: It's a popular choice before concerts at the nearby Chastain Park Amphitheatre. If you plan on going on a concert night, make reservations. Save room for the signature Kentucky spice cake.

Mary Mac's Tea Room (Midtown)

– One of the oldest Atlanta restaurants, the crowds get here early, so a late dinner may be a good choice. The restaurant is so popular it even has its own cookbook. Southern specialties at Mary Mac's include okra, salmon cakes, fried shrimp, fried green tomatoes, fried crawfish, ribs and banana cream pie.

South City Kitchen (Midtown and Vinings)

– You are in for a treat at South City Kitchen. Standouts here are the chicken liver, the beef brisket and, of course, pecan pie (whether you pronounce it "pea-can" or "peh-cahn"). Look for a new location to open in Buckhead in early 2016.

Southern Art (Buckhead)

– If it's an upscale atmosphere you seek, look no further than Southern Art located in the Intercontinental Hotel. With a menu that rotates regularly, the ham bar (charcuterie) and shrimp and grits always remain. We've enjoyed braised oxtails, pork shank and the creamy 12-layer red velvet cake. Tip: Southern Art validates parking for three hours.

Watershed on Peachtree (Buckhead)

– With a move several years ago to Buckhead, Watershed did not miss a beat and keeps impressing. With notable Atlanta chef Zeb Stevenson at the helm, diners will like items such as crawfish pie, deviled eggs or chicken fried steak. Don't miss sitting at the lovely bar, constructed from a single oak tree.

Wisteria (Inman Park)

– If a cozy atmosphere is what you're looking for, visit Wisteria. This historic brick building, with low lights and white tablecloths, impresses. Start with black-eyed pea hummus and follow that up with the signature entrée, fried catfish. Tip: There is an excellent wine list, and Wisteria offers gluten-free menu items.

SHOPPING OUTSIDE THE PERIMETER

If you spend much time in Atlanta, you'll hear someone use the terms ITP or OTP. Don't be puzzled; this is Atlanta-speak for city (ITP) or suburb (OTP), and simply means a location inside or outside the Perimeter. The Perimeter is I-285, the expressway that circles the perimeter of the city. Here are a couple of OTP destinations worth the drive.

Avalon

This new Alpharetta shopping and dining hub is a great source of gifts from well-known brands such as J. Crew, Anthropologie, Tumi, Madewell, Bonobos, Vineyard Vines and Kendra Scott Jewelry. Make a day of it and stop in at one of the restaurant outposts of Atlanta favorites or chefs which include Antico Pizza, Bantam + Biddy, Bocado Burger, Lottafrutta and The El Felix.

SPORTS CENTRAL

Atlanta is the place to be for NASCAR, basketball and more at the start of the year. BY WENDY BOWMAN

WEEKEND OF THUNDER

NASCAR returns to Atlanta Motor Speedway Feb. 26-28 with the Folds of Honor QuikTrip 500 Weekend. All of the action kicks off Friday with Sprint Cup Series Qualifying Day, followed by a Saturday doubleheader featuring XFINITY and Camping World Truck series racing, and culminates Sunday with the Folds of Honor QuikTrip 500 Sprint Cup Series event. Tickets start at $39, with special deals including a $159 Start/Finish Line Package (Saturday and Sunday tickets, plus a Sunday pre-race pit pass) and Jimmie Johnson Package (access to a pre-race Q&A session with the defending champ for just $48 and half-price for kids). www.atlantamotorspeedway.com

FINAL PLAYOFF PUSH

The Atlanta Falcons round out the 2015-16 regular NFL season under new Head Coach Dan Quinn at the Georgia Dome Jan. 3 at 1 p.m. with an exciting division-rival matchup against the New Orleans Saints. This could be the make-or-break game for the Falcons, who are hoping to snag a spot in the NFC playoffs. www.atlantafalcons.com

HOOPIN' IT UP

On the city's pro basketball scene, the Atlanta Hawks are looking to follow up on last year's trip to the Eastern Conference Finals for the first time in franchise history. Notable home games coming up at Philips Arena include meetings versus the defending NBA Champion Golden State Warriors and reigning MVP Stephen Curry Feb. 22, and the annual Martin Luther King Jr. Day game featuring the Orlando Magic Jan. 18. Don't miss these special deals starting at $99: Chick-fil-A Family

Nights during all Friday and Saturday night home games (four tickets and four Chick-fil-A Combo Meals), and Hudson Grille 4 Packs (four tickets and four $10 Hudson Grille gift cards for all Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday home games). www.hawks.com

There's also plenty of college hoop action in January and February, with the Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets (www.ramblinwreck.com) in play at McCamish Pavilion, and the GSU Panthers (GeorgiaStateSports.com) holding court at the Georgia State University Sports Arena.

HERE COME THE MONSTERS!

The Georgia Dome will be the place to be this winter when it hosts Monster Jam — the world's premier Monster Jam truck series — Jan. 9 at 7 p.m. Expect to see custom-designed machines sitting atop 66-inch-tall tires and weighing a minimum of 10,000 pounds smashing their way around (and often through) the obstacles including buses, cars, dirt jumps, planes, camping caravans, large recreational vehicles and more, while a "Party in the Pits" earlier in the day offers fans the chance to mingle with drivers and trucks like Adam Anderson and Grave Digger. Tickets range from $20-$50 and are available at the Dome box office or all Ticketmaster Outlets. www.monsterjam.com

SUPERCROSS

Monster trucks give way to souped-up cycles Feb. 27 when 2015 Monster Energy Supercross Champ Ryan Dungey and other top riders battle it out for the esteemed 450sx class crown at the Monster Energy AMA Supercross — an FIM World Championship. The action-packed racing kicks off at 6:30 p.m., with a chance to meet the riders and get autographs at a Pit Party from 12:30-6 p.m. Tickets start at $20 and are available at the Dome box office or all Ticketmaster Outlets. www.supercrossonline.com

IT'S ALWAYS BRAVES SEASON

The boys of summer might not be in action this winter, but fans can still head to Turner Field for plenty of special offseason museum and tour promotions. In January, two people can visit the Ivan Allen Jr. Braves Museum & Hall of Fame and tour the stadium for just $16 (museum closed Jan. 1-3 and Jan. 18), and in February, fans can receive a free tour of Turner Field with the purchase of a player name/number T-shirt at the museum. atlanta.braves.mlb.com
